

Please do not regulate VoIP services. The industry is doing fine without government regulation and is in fact thriving. We have companies that are doing incredible jobs providing this service at a lower cost than it would be if the industry is regulated. Regulation in the other telecom sectors has hurt Americans more than it has helped, so please take a "hands-off" approach to this incredible technology.